The game also features the usual narrative missions, that are based on killing a number of enemies in quick succession. Selecting one of the weapons you will be given a series of challenges. You will also need to complete the GBA version in order to see what all the features there are to the normal game. All in all, SMB1: The Lost Worlds is a lot of fun, both for fans and for newcomers. It has the addictive feel of a game that you should be able to complete with just one try. Discover these problems first! Restarting your system will fix most boot issues. What is SmartLink? One press action will be your menu selection -- following this, you will be able to return to the home screen. These basic functions can be found on every smartphone, including the iPhone. Once you have purchased your iPhone, setting it up may be a bit tricky. It is free to find iPhone apps in the App Store -- there are thousands of free apps and you will be able to get them by searching the store. Smarts is a single CD with both Java and Windows based technologies -- by using both CDs together, you can have the system set up in an hour. SMB2: The Lost Continents is a sequel to one of the most successful games ever created. While it takes everything from the original game, the graphics and interface have been significantly improved. Also, there are 18 new locations to explore. In order to complete a puzzle in this game, you have to combine groups of objects. Most of these groups are made up of objects you might see in a spy game, such as bulletproof vests, truncheons, folders and secure rooms. One of the most enjoyable parts of the game is the variety of areas and locations. The action will take place at five points of time -- all of them are related to an important historical event. These locations also have been conveniently categorized in one of three distinct islands. You will see enemies in your missions; these include ten foot tall robots and fearsome leader types. Following the completion of each mission, you will receive a medal for your efforts. The rules for the medals are: A bronze medal is given when you complete all three mission types. As you progress through the game, you will be able to buy upgrades for your weapons, armor and gadgets -- some are essential for certain locations. The
